About Us:

About the Institute

In today's world, there is a constant focus on product innovation which needs rigorous research and technological development. It is also essential to disseminate new technical ideas and features that can be incorporated in day-to-day life for the benefit of the society. Scientific meetings play a great role in bringing the researchers, academicians and students on a common platform for exchange of such ideas and related findings. To achieve this goal, Computer Science & Engineering Department, BRAINWARE UNIVERSITY, KOLKATA is organizing an International Conference which will foster learning in a multi-disciplinary environment, particularly, in the areas of Informatics, Communication, Engineering and Technology. It is imperative that quality work can evolve through collaboration with expert knowledge in different domains

ABOUT THE VENUE (UNIVERSITY):- BRAINWARE UNIVERSITY, BARASAT

The Brainware University, established under the West Bengal Govt. Act 31 of 2015, at Kazipara, Barasat, Kolkata strives to reach out and add worth to people's lives, impart quality education for creating efficient manpower for the future, and promote a superior category of students and researchers who would apply knowledge for the advancement of society and meet the challenges of a rapidly changing world. It aims to spread and enhance education, collaborate with national and international institutions, promote interdisciplinary research work, upgrade educational standards and empower the youth with a holistic development.

Department of Computer Science & Engineering aims to create a promising environment for producing skillful professionals by making students aware of the modern industrial need. The Department will also encourage fundamental and innovative research in the field of Computer Science & Engineering.
